The APPG on Drones is pleased to host a meeting with the authors of three major new reports on drones. Antony Dworkin is Senior Policy Fellow and leads the European Council of Foreign Relations’ work in human rights, democracy and justice. He wrote the ECFR policy brief of 2013 on ‘Drones and targeted killing: defining a European position’ which argued that, as members sought to acquire drones themselves, the EU and EU states should take a more active stance on drone use and engage in constructive dialogue within the transatlantic alliance.

Letta Taylor has directed Human Rights Watch’s work in Yemen and written the acclaimed Human Rights Watch report ‘Between a Drone and Al-Qaeda.’ Mustafa Qadri is the Amnesty Researcher in Pakistan and author of ‘Will I be next? US drone strikes in Pakistan,’ a comprehensive study of new evidence on the covert US drone program in Waziristan from a human rights perspective.

Chair: Tom Watson MP
